Background

Robert E. Burt Boy Scout Volunteer Award

The Robert E. Burt Boy Scout Volunteer Award is the name for a new award for scouters of the Sons of the American Revolution. It is an honor due to members of the SAR who act as role models and provide dedicated service to the young men in the Boy Scouts of America (BSA). The Robert E. Burt Boy Scout Volunteer Award acknowledges the service of the recipient to Scouting and is awarded by the National Society, Sons of the American Revolution. The BSA has agreed to recognize the Robert E. Burt Boy Scout Volunteer Award by including it among similar awards that are recognized by its Community Organization Award. The proceeds from the sale of award program elements support the SAR's Eagle Scout Scholarship Fund.

The award consists of a medal with ribbon, miniature medal, a certificate and a BSA COA square knot.

The Community Organization Award

The Community Organization Award (COA) is presented by seven national community organizations that charter units with the Boy Scouts of America (BSA). The COA honors those who, through their dedication and work, further the BSA's Scouting program—whether by helping charter Scouting units, serving as volunteers in the development of those units, and/or furthering Scouting through leadership in and support of youth outreach in their respective organization.

Robert E. Burt Boy Scout Volunteer Award

Eligibility

The award will be presented to a member of the SAR in good standing who is currently active in a scout unit, district, or council or a member that has displayed outstanding dedication to the Scouting Program. Work accomplishment and dedication rather than a specific number of years in Scouting, will be the criteria for this award.

Criteria

When selecting their candidate, chapters would be asked to consider members who:

- Have brought Scouting to more youth.
- Have assisted local chapters in forming Scouting units.
- Have promoted or assisted in the Eagle Scout competition program
- Are fully trained in the skills of Scouting and are outstanding role models.
- Have contributed significantly to the SAR and Scouting by bringing the two movements together to serve the community.
- Have offered Scouting to all youth regardless of race, creed, or income level, and has been instrumental in organizing Scouting units, especially in inner-city or other low-income communities.
- Have exemplified the Scout Law and SAR virtues.
- Have recruited Scouting volunteers.

Nomination Process

Like the Eagle Scout scholarships, candidates must have the recommendation of their local chapter to be eligible. The nominee must be recommended by a current member of the SAR.

- The recommender must complete the Official Nomination Form (Form) and submit an attached page explaining the candidate's qualification for the award.
- The recommender is to have the form approved by the local SAR and local Scouters as being supportive of Scouting.
- The recommender should then have the Form reviewed by the President of the candidate's chapter. If found to be qualified, the Form will be authorized and forwarded to the chapter's state society. The state society will then forward the Form to the chairman of the national society Eagle Scout Committee.
- The national society committee will, on an annual basis, forward the information on awardees to the Boy Scouts of America, Relationships Division, Irving, TX as an official record of the recipients.
- The award will be presented at an appropriate ceremony of either the SAR or the Boy Scouts.

Finance

The $20 application fees for the award goes to pay for the cost of the award and this expense will have to be born by the person or group that recommends the person for the award.

The award will be administered through the existing NSSAR Eagle Scout Scholarship Committee.
